Alicja Lelonek-Ball

Alicja's Lelonek-Ball journey towards becoming a professional photographer started with the birth of her first son. Now she is a mother of 3 boys – Stanisław (14), Gustaw (12) and Nikodem (8) – and the journey continues.

She has a degree in both English and Slavic Philology, however, she has always felt the urge to express her creativity. "I have tried embroidery, knitting, furniture renovation, but it is photography, that gave me what I was looking for", says Alicja.

Two years ago, Alicja decided to change her life completely and left her career in a corporation, in order to gain freedom. She wanted to spend more time with her children, her husband (who silently supports all her crazy ideas), dogs (Patron and Luna) and to be more creative. According to Alicja, "It is never too late to start doing what you have (even subconsciously) felt is an essential part of you".

Now she lives in a village, in one of the most industrialised parts of Poland, and shares her professional life between taking photos of her clients, teaching English, conducting online workshops in editing for photographers and preparing her own photography projects.

Alicja, Fine Art photographer, is in love with studio portraits, but also loves capturing real emotions in natural environment. "One of the best things in photography, is that I can grow, change paths and direction, if I wanted, experiment, and be myself", states Alicja.

Aliz Pongrácz

Aliz Pongrácz is a 30 year old photographer from Hungary. She has always loved photography and considers herself to have an artistic soul. In 2017 Aliz became a qualified photographer. She then realised, that she has finally found herself and was ready to share her artwork with everyone.

Aliz Pongrácz has always been looking for her own, unique style in photography and she believes, that she has finally found it – Fine Art Portraits. Not only does she love taking photos in studio light, but she really likes working with natural light as well.

Recently, she has moved and started living together with the Love of her life. They are now expecting their first baby boy, who is due to be born in July. Some of photographer's future plans are to design her own studio and to expand her business abroad.
